

Southeast exploding with developments - residents register protest

St. Albert is facing a development explosion all along its southeast section, enough to cause a major upset in present traffic trends and enough to worry residents living in the area.

That was the message both council and a packed gallery received at the regular meeting of St. Albert council last Monday night.

All at once council seemed to be swamped with development applications: three 24 unit apartments from Fernwood Construction on lots four, five and six at the intersection of Levasseur Road and Grandin Road, and an application from the Diversified Management Group for a 68 unit condominium development on lots six and seven near the same point.

There is a proposal in the works for a multi-family residential scheme on lots one to seven off Garnett Street. Then there are two proposals for a shopping centre development on either side of the St. Albert Trail from Abacus Cities and Shelter Resources. And to cap all that council found itself faced with change of direction from the Oblate fathers, who have forced council to look for another site for a major recreation facility, away from the 15 acre site on Highway Two. The site chosen for the facility, comprising a shell arena, is the Akimsdale site on Hebert Road south of Atkins Drive.

The Oblates have said that the arena, ball diamonds and soccer field were not the facilities "as originally conceived," (a major multi-purpose recreational facility), and consider they have no further agreement with council on the use of the 15 acre Highway Two site.

In population-increase terms, the residential developments of the various developers and those touting the shopping centre facilities, could mean at least 3,000 more people coming into St. Albert's southeast flank.

There could be constraints on such developments as the town is still drawing up its general plan, and the Ball Estate, a location for some of the schemes, is under development control.

RESIDENTS PROTEST MULTIPLE DENSITY PLANS

It might have been expected that some southeast Grandin residents would be at council's public hearing to register a protest at what might be coming to their neck of the woods.

A brief from the residents said that the entire area as set out in the "Ball Estate Design Brief" should be considered as a whole and not on a piecemeal basis. It protected the large amount of multiple density in Grandin Park, which will be the most densely populated area in St. Albert if development proceeds as proposed.

A resident presenting the brief said there could be four mile traffic tie-ups resulting from the developments and the brief emphasized that "inequities foisted onto Grandin Park in the past should be corrected at this time."

The brief also stated, "we could present another brief considering the devastating traffic problems resulting from an influx of far too Please Turn to Page 2

Industrial subdivision application signed

After about three months of hassle, St. Albert finally had its subdivision application for the Campbell Industrial Park signed last Friday.

The 160 acre park lies south-east of St. Albert at the Campbell railway crossing and will cater to light industry of the "Bonaventure" type according to St. Albert Mayor Dick Plain.

Both Town Administrator Bob Byron and Mayor Plain spoke of a three month delay in getting the agreement signed. This was due to difficulties in getting the signing parties to the table in that period.

Signing the subdivision application alongside the town were representatives of the Estate of former Edmonton Mayor Bill Hawrelak, with 37 1/2 per cent ownership in the lands, as well as Hartford Holdings and Mr. R. Whidney.

The problem now is that even after the subdivision signing, it is possibly too late to get roads and utilities into the first 80 acres of the site, because of the time of year.

St. Albert is also faced with more red tape as the application now goes for scrutiny under the Edmonton

Regional Planning Commission.

Mayor Plain says that he had become less and less pleased with the delays as the months went on "and then we have to go on and have it done all over again at the ERPC."

He says he is hoping for a new planning act which will enable subdivision work to progress more quickly "and avoid duplication."

Servicing the first 80 acres of the site doesn't look too optimistic at this stage the mayor said, "We've had nothing but stall and run around."

What irks Mayor Plain is that St. Albert has the engineering resources and staff to get to work on servicing right away, but systems of bureaucracy like the ERPC cause further delays.

Mayor Plain emphasized that "this type of thing" had brought the administration to the point where "we are upset with the type of performance we are getting."

He terms the Campbell Industrial Park a much needed development for St. Albert.

Girl badly hurt in car accident

Vanessa Pratt, 18, of 1 Grosvenor Boulevard, received compound fractures of the left and right ankles and a lacerated scalp as a result of a motor vehicle accident at the west end of Levasseur Road. The accident took place at approximately 12:30 a.m. on Friday, September 17th, 1976.

Also injured were Niel Markstrom, 19, of Edmonton and the driver, Larry Allan Burton, 19, of 56 Gillian Crescent, St. Albert.

Burton received a sprained right hand. The car was proceeding west on Levasseur Road and drove through the T-intersection at Sir Winston Churchill Avenue, drove over the embankment, coming to rest in the open field. Damage to the car, a 1969 Buick, is approximately $800.00.

Residents of St. Albert are reminded to lock their cars when not in use as a number of thefts of tape decks, tapes and accessories are being reported.

SHELTER IN DARK

Before the slick presentation from Abacus Cities got going, Development Consultant from Shelter, Glen Leckie told the MPC, "We were not led to believe you

Proposals clash at MPC meeting

Two proposals for two separate shopping centres got tangled up with each other at a St. Albert Municipal Planning Commission meeting September 14.

Perhaps this was due to the fact that the proposers of the two multi-million dollar centres, Shelter Resource Limited and Abacus Cities Ltd., were following too close on each other's heels, but the tangle was obvious at one point.

Shelter Resource has been dealing with St. Albert since 1971 and more recently since 1975 on a proposal for a 225,000 square foot shopping development on land bounded by Hebert Road and Arlington Drive.

That development calls for car parking facilities for 1300 vehicles with a small multi family development thrown in.

But at the meeting last week Abacus Cities came in with their first presentation for a flashy shopping centre development for the Ball Estate between Gate Avenue, Gervais Road and Grandin Road.

Also lumped in with the project was provision for a multi-family residential development for 1500 people. The general impression left with the few public who attended the MPC meeting might have been that Abacus quickly took over the initiative in the presentations, pushing that from Shelter Resource into the background.

were developing another shopping centre."

This comment was likely elicited from a statement by Town Administrator Bob Byron who pointed out that the next proposal would be for a 200,000 square foot shopping centre in the Ball Estate.

Mayor Dick Plain chipped in the point that he hoped Shelter was not suggesting there should only be one (development), but he was obviously worried about the concern of St. Albert propping up two commercial centres.

Another consultant for Shelter, Wayne Quinn, said his firm was prepared to look at its development in a different light, "We are ready and willing ... or we wouldn't have been here every second week since February."

And earlier Mr. Quinn said he felt the chances Shelter would develop their project without multi-family residential "were quite good."

Perhaps because Abacus Cities were making their first presentation, with slides and "pretty pictures," five years after Shelter had made their original proposal, they looked the slicker outfit.

Consultant Mr. W. Laidley for Abacus says he is trying to repatriate the type of shopping facilities many Edmontonians enjoy back to St. Albert, and points out that his firm's proposal is addressed to "major deficiencies in St. Albert."

Whatever the advantages of the project, Mayor Dick Plain says he is worried about the visual impact the development might have on Grandin residents who have been used to looking at open space. And he further asked the developers to ask themselves what a 15 year resident there might feel about the impact of traffic.

HOUSING UNITS FOR 1500 PEOPLE

Apart from the shopping facility, the project is also very much tied in with a multi family dwelling area for 1500 people.

As yet, the developer admits, they have not gone into detailed traffic studies.

Whatever the outcome, and this may take some time, the residents of Grandin have been promised a say in the issue with Abacus Cities. But Mr. Laidley is emphasizing that multiple family units are viable alternatives to single family, the preferred unit in St. Albert right now.

Council praised on choice of swimming pool

St. Albert received praise from president of the Alberta Summer Swimming Association John Grave for its approval of an eight lane, 25 metre, 6,000 square foot swimming pool at the regular meeting of St. Albert council last Monday night.

He told council he wanted to praise their choice of swimming pool, but he still wondered why council could not have chosen the "L" shaped pool the people had asked for. He also said he was puzzled by a statement by Councillor Barry Breadner that the choice was representative of the consensus taken at meetings on the subject.

But Mr. Grave did say (on the plus side) that council's choice of pool was ideal for competitive swimming.

Coun. Breadner, in reply, said he had made his decision on the pool by looking at the facts "the way I see them, and I attended all the input meetings."

The pool, slated for the Fountain Park, will be proceeded with in the normal tendering fashion. Councillors Rod Thronsdon and Margaret Smith still wanted the "L" shaped pool the people had asked for, but Coun. Breadner thought the choice was the best compromise within the budget. Cost of the pool is $1,347,000.

Council gave their approval to the pool with a 4-2 vote.

Since the pool lies in with the Fountain Park and park policy in St. Albert generally, Councillor Frank Lukay wanted a delay in the development of Fountain Park, till St. Albert adopted a major park planning policy. This motion was carried by council 1, with Coun. Breadner opposed.

many people into a relatively small area."

The resident also pointed out that Canada was the second largest country in the world and he couldn't see much point in fighting over such a small piece of land.

BACK FOR STUDY

To cut a long story short council decided to refer the apartments and condominium developments proposed for Grandin and Levasseur Roads, as well as the multi-family residential scheme off Garnett Street to a Municipal Planning Commission land use study.

Recommendations from the MPC on this problem will get back to council within 30 days.

And Abacus Cities and Shelter Resources are being asked to sharpen their shopping centre proposals so that council can make a final choice, possibly by the end of October, on which firm will go ahead with a development. These proposals will again have to go the MPC route.

As far as the new site for the arena was concerned, council did not seem to be unduly taken aback at the decision of the Oblate Fathers to void the agreement on the land use for the Highway 20 recreation site. The Akinsdale site met with general approval, though Councillor Rod Thronson regretted that it could not be in the Lacombe Park area. Mayor Dick Plain approved the new site but regretted that the facility could not have gone in the northwest sector; Councillor Barry Breadner supported the new site because of its good access.

Even though it was only a "second best," both Councillors Frank Luky and Margaret Smith thought it was the best alternative.

Returning to earlier in the council meeting, there was a long "sob story" as Coun. Breadner termed it about the delays Diversified Management had experienced with their 68 unit condominium proposal.

Development Consultant for the firm Mr. C. Moroschan said they had run the gamut of the (town) administration. They had gone ahead with the proposal precisely because it was a lower density development and they had spent $100,000 to secure the financing on the 68 condominium units.

A contractor had been selected and the line could be held on costs, said Mr. Moroschan, but he warned that winter construction would increase these costs.

proposals

Levasseur and Gervais Road, Councillor Margaret Smith says she doesn't want the whole area (of the project) given over to multi-family.

And she wants lower density at Grandin, with a further decrease in density towards the west.

Other points in the Abacus Cities proposal call for the protection of the existing bus terminal node in the project, and a break up of parking across the site. Also it calls for the maintenance of existing trails, and the use of the existing slope.

There are provisions for terraced housing near the shopping mall, with a small lake and swimming pool and possibly a day care centre. Wood trellising might be introduced for residents' privacy; and in the construction of the units themselves, there will be less emphasis on the box approach, and alternatives to the three storey flush facade. Units will be in low scale development clusters with pedestrian ways through the site to the park areas.

Factories, power plants in space believed possible within 50 years

Outer space will become home to thousands of families from earth in a few decades, predicts scientist and author Isaac Asimov.

Writing in the July National Geographic, he envisions orbiting space colonies engaged in farming and manufacturing, operating mines on the moon, and building huge satellites to beam solar energy back to earth.

His fictional account of a space shuttle visit to one such colony, "L-S," is not mere fantasy. Mr. Asimov drew his material from detailed plans worked out last year by a group of 30 engineers and social and physical scientists.

COLONY IN WHEEL

The proposal is being reviewed at the Ames Research Centre near Palo Alto, California, this summer by a panel of physicists and other scientists. It is part of an in-depth study of space colonization and satellite power stations sponsored by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

The next 50 years could see construction in space of a large, wheel-shaped satellite that could house 10,000 men, women and children, Mr. Asimov says.

The hub of the colony would be a sphere some 340 feet in diameter where space craft from earth could dock. From this hub, six spokes nearly half a mile long would extend to the tubular rim of the wheel.

The spherical hub would contain the colony's hospital and research laboratories. Elevators inside the spokes would provide transportation to the six sections of the torus, or rim. As the wheel-shaped colony revolved in space, centrifugal force would be created as a substitute for gravity.

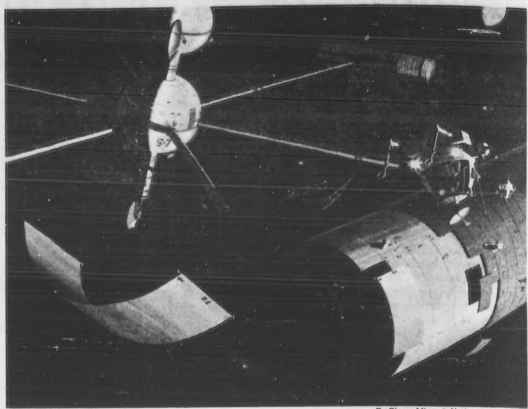

The torus would have an inside diameter of 425 feet, providing ample height for elevator-equipped buildings several stories tall lining streets with plazas and escalators.

SUNLIGHT TO ORDER

Three of the six sections would house the colonists' living quarters.

Mr. Asimov depicts one section as the residential area, given over to blocks of terraced glass-and-aluminum apartments and small shops, while the second would contain the colony's theatre, movie house, and sports facilities and the third schools and library.

Mirrors would filter and disperse sunlight through the glass dome curing high overhead. To simulate day and night in the living quarters, the mirrors would be tilted for eight hours out of every 24.

The same cycle could be followed in one section of the torus in which colonists would raise livestock and tend fish ponds. But the remaining two sections, devoted to agriculture, would benefit from round-the-clock sunlight and controlled climates, providing crop yields far higher than on earth.

Minerals mined on the moon would be rocketed to factories linked with the colony. From these factories would come the materials to build more space colonies and solar power stations, as well as computer components for export to earth.

No experience is needed... age 12 - 17 years.

Skateboards unstable

There is a resurgence in the popularity of skateboards and the Canada Safety Council reiterates its policy with regard to their use.

Skateboards are capable of attaining speeds of up to 35 miles per hour. At this speed the risks are clear. Even at lower speeds, loss of control frequently results in painful and severe injury.

Novice riders have little control over their direction, and at times their speed, and cannot come to a quick stop when necessary.

The device is not fastened to the user and can become a runaway and dangerous to anyone in its path.

The council advised against the use of skateboards in all public locations such as sidewalks, roadways, paved shoulders and on steep grades.

The newer models are considerably more sophisticated than their predecessors of the 60's. They are constructed of flexible high impact molded plastics or glass fibre. The urethane wheels afford a better grip on the road and allow the expert rider to slalom, spin and do balancing acts.

Although the new boards are safer, in some respects, serious injuries continue to occur. The Canada Safety Council regards the skateboard as an unstable device.

Grandin Bakery under new owner

On Tuesday, September 14th Martin Hooimeyer took over as proprietor of Grandin Bakery in Grandin Mall. The bakery had been owned by Peter Zuidema.

Mr. Hooimeyer is a baker of long experience, 23 years to be exact. He left a large Edmonton firm after 10 years to take over the St. Albert shop and 'get out on his own'. He also worked in a bakery in Jasper Place for six years.

Mor Hooimeyer was born about 80 km north of Amsterdam Holland and it was in Den Holder, Holland that he attended a trade school to learn the bakery business. After spending seven years in his homeland as a baker he decided to emigrate to Canada.

Mr. Hooimeyer and his family live in Edmonton at 12102 - 123 Street. He and his wife, Jenny, have four children, Curtis, 12 years, Cynthia, 11 years, Bruce, nine years and Errol, five years.

Mr. Hooimeyer said that he hoped to be able to do a good business in St. Albert and if his first week was any indication, it was going to be fantastic.

Next to new sale

The gals from the Sturgeon General Hospital Auxiliary are busy preparing for their annual next to new sale slated for October 2nd. This group has a reputation for having good bargains on clothing, plants, produce, household items and toys. Donations of items will be gratefully accepted and pick-up can be arranged by phoning 459-3610 or 459-5443. All proceeds of the sale will be donated to the hospital.

Blood donations urgently needed

The Women's Institute of St. Albert is sponsoring a Red Cross blood donor clinic at the Community Hall on Thursday, September 23 from 7 - 9 p.m. The Edmonton Red Cross is now required to collect over 1,000 units of blood a week in order to keep the hospitals adequately supplied.

Along with recent advances in medicine, particularly new surgical techniques, a far greater need for blood has developed. Not only is fresh blood used directly in transfusions but blood can be separated into various components. In this way one unit of blood may save the lives of up to four people. St. Albert is a large and active community capable of an excellent turnout at Thursday's clinic. Together residents can provide for all Albertans this "Gift of Life."

Open heart surgery and other relatively new operations call for incredibly large amounts of blood. For example, a recent liver transplant was performed and the patient received 150 units of blood in all. A list of blood requirements for only one week in a single Edmonton hospital is as follows:

18 units - newborn babies;

8 units - lymphoma patient;

16 units - leukemia patient;

90 units (for cryoprecipitate) - hemophilia; 24 units -

gastro-intestinal hemorrhage

11 units - liver failure; 11

units - abdominal aneurism;

134 units - general surgery; 8

units - delivery problems.

The Red Cross in Edmonton also supplies blood to a number of auxiliary hospitals and in addition, supplies blood and its components for Northern Alberta and the Northwest Territories.

More than one million units of blood or blood fractions will be used in Canadian hospitals this year alone. It is only because of the generosity of hundreds of thousands of Canadians that the Red Cross Society's Blood Transfusion Service can function at all. It is the generosity of organizations and individual donors from coast to coast that will enable the Blood Transfusion Service to meet a demand for blood that becomes greater each year.

Canada Post issues stamps on Iroquois

Ex-Postmaster General Bryce Mackasey recently announced the issue of four 10-cent stamps featuring the Iroquoian Indians. These are the last stamps in a series on Canadian Indian culture depicting artifacts, way of life, dress, and symbolism.

The new stamps will be launched officially on September 17th at Brantford, Ontario.

A total of 36 million stamps are to be printed by Ashton-Potter Limited of Toronto. The artifacts and way of life stamps will be printed se-tenant as will the dress and symbolism stamps.

The artifacts stamp includes photographs by Ray Webber of a corn husk mask, a turtle shell rattle, a false face mask, an earthenware vessel, and a ball club, which were provided by the Royal Ontario Museum and the National Museums of Canada.

The way of life stamp is from a painting of an Iroquoian encampment by George Heriot. The dress and symbolism stamps depict a ceremonial costume from a drawing by Lewis Parker, and an Iroquoian thunderbird interpreted by Georges Beaulieu.

Kiwanis Club is alive and working

For those readers who hadn't heard, there is a Kiwanis Club in St. Albert! The group meets every Wednesday evening at the St. Albert Inn in the Ridge-wood Room at 6:15 p.m. If you are interested in becoming a member of this hard working, community minded organization, make your desire to join known at one of their meetings.

The Kiwanis Club has a fund raising project coming up in the very near future - their annual Apple Drive. On September 25th Kiwanis clowns will be selling B.C. MacIntosh apples at Grandin

Mall. These apples will be sold for donations - whatever the purchaser can afford. This is an opportunity for the members of the community to contribute to Kiwanis projects. During this week members of the Kiwanis Club will be canvassing door-to-door selling tickets for four quart baskets of Macs. These holders of tickets will receive their apples during the weekend of October 7 to 10.

"Funds raised by any of the Kiwanis projects are put back into the town," reported Tam Bates, vice president of the St. Albert Kiwanis Club. The monies raised are put into a trust fund and financial support for club projects is drawn from that fund.

LOCAL FESTIVAL PLANNED

Music Festival Chairman Charlie Cox said that plans are already well underway for the proposed April 13, 14 and 15 festival. The festival is open to contestants of all ages, in any of several different categories. This will be the 11th Kiwanis Music Festival in the province, and like the others, scholarships will be awarded to entrants who live in the Sturgeon district. These scholarships are donated by local businesses and organizations.

Mr. Cox expects to have in the neighbourhood of 400 entries. Winners in this contest are eligible to go directly to the provincial competition. This will make it very advantageous for musicians to compete in this contest rather than the Edmonton Festival which has approximately 2,500 entries.

At present the Club is awaiting an action from the town which will provide them with the space to hold the festival. As soon as the space arrangements are finalized, work can get into full swing.

Huge turnout for ball

Members of the Royal Canadian Legion Branch 271 held their grand opening ball on Saturday, September 18th. The auditorium was full to capacity for the banquet and ball.

Head table guests included St. Albert and Sturgeon MLA Ernie Jamison, Mayor Dick Plain and wife Margaret, Legion President Reg Bremner and wife Betty, Past President Denny Taylor, President of the Auxiliary Shirley Sorsdahl and out of town guests. The introductions were performed by a witty Vern Tompkins who was in good form.

Speeches as such were mercifully short but Ernie Jamison drew applause when he presented the Branch with a tangible form of support from the provincial government - a cheque for $10,800. Another donation was received from the architects, Hodgson and Groves for $1,000.

After a most enjoyable meal, the superb group, the Sound Merchants played their own special brand of music until 1 a.m. The dancers were loathe to let them go.

Although this is only the third time the group has played in St. Albert, it has earned a reputation for good music and attracted a band of stalwart followers. The group consists of Alecia, a new lead singer with a wide range, Bob Kisilevich on the electric piano, Ken Linbeck on bass, Earle Asplund on trumpet, Arthur Rowe on trombone and Bob Wilson singer and drummer.

The evening was a fitting occasion to celebrate the official opening of the fine new building, set in natural surroundings, which is a real asset to both the Legion and the community.

Around Town

One of the exhibitors at the St. Albert and Community Trade Fair, Standard General Construction Limited held three draws at the Fair for construction equipment models. The winners are: Janet Resta, 8 Glenhaven Crescent; B. Nielsen, 47 Grandora Crescent and Brian Boorse, 32 Burnham Avenue. Congratulations are extended to the winners from Standard General.

ERPC - useful or not?

Two front page stories coming out of Town Council this week point out that "systems of Bureaucracy" can be a thorn in the side or a useful protection for elected bodies, depending on what the concern is.

The mayor is understandably upset because the town's application for 160 acres in Campbell Industrial Park has to go before the Edmonton Regional Planning Commission, following earlier delays caused by hurdles getting the application signed, which prompted his calling ERPC a system of bureaucracy.

On the other hand we have an equally frustrated developer who has been dealing with the town administration since 1971 in his efforts to develop a 225,000 square foot shopping centre. Mr. Quinn, representing Shelter Resources was also understandably upset at council meeting Monday night.

There is in addition reason to believe that town council is sometimes well pleased that applications for subdivision as the town's in Campbell Park must come before the ERPC.

By no means can it be stated that the mayor (St. Albert's representative on ERPC) always votes in favour of applications from neighbouring municipalities in order to speed them on their way through this "bureaucratic system." A recent example was the application of MD Sturgeon for an industrial park on the south boundary of Morinville, which Mayor Plain spoke against and voted against, helping to block the application. He is also on record at ERPC as slowing subdivision in other municipalities by requesting that further studies be done.

Arena site change will be welcome

Many local residents will, we believe, be greatly relieved that St. Albert's second arena will not be going on the Highway 2 site, and that in fact this property is again under the control of the Oblate Fathers.

Unfortunately the Lacombe Park people are again the losers through no fault of their own. Nor could they have foreseen the traffic flow difficulties as they individually made their purchases in that area.

The traffic problem of connecting Lacombe Park to the downtown core awaits solution.

However the council should bear in mind that the people have indicated their desire to have recreation facilities on school lands. Both for cost saving on the land and for optimum use of the facilities by physical education teachers and the public. Arenas and pools are used more by students by far than other age groups.

It is to be hoped that a school site in Lacombe Park will be the home of an arena and compatible sports development in the near future.

The streams You have given never run dry—they provide the earth with crops. Psalm 65

Ball team supported

We would like to thank Mr. Keith Brown of the Lacombe Park Red Rooster for sponsoring our Mosquito baseball team this past season.

A big thank you also to the parents who showed up at the games and helped with the scorekeeping, equipment and coaching as well as cheering the boys along.

A very special thank you to the players who worked so very hard at our many practices on early Saturday mornings and weekends, and then played their hearts out at every game.

We hope the sponsor, parents and players enjoyed the season as much as we did coaching this fine young team.

OTTAWA and Small Business

By KENNETH McDONALD

The present combination of big institutions, big cities and big welfare rests on a myth - that bigness provides economies of scale. On the contrary, except in special cases, bigness results from mergers and acquisitions - organizing small and medium-sized enterprises under common ownership.

A recent U.S. Senate study shows that, though large multi-plant U.S. corporations provide 73 per cent of all manufacturing employment, they constitute only 3 per cent of all corporations. The average work force in each of the plants is 203 people. Take out the obvious big auto, defence and electrical equipment plants, and the average drops to 100.

In Japan, 69 per cent of all manufacturing workers are employed by small and medium-sized independent businesses. In the U.S. it is the big multi-plant corporations that employ 73 per cent of all manufacturing workers; only 27 per cent work for owner-managers.

In other words, the majority of plants operated by the largest U.S. firms would be classified as small businesses if they were independently owned.

Economies for small firms

The phenomenon is duplicated in Canada. Yet there are no inherent advantages to common ownership. It confers neither efficiency nor economies of scale, but rather the artificial economies that come from power, prestige and control of markets.

Public policy should be directed toward insuring that the advantages enjoyed by multi-plant or conglomerate forms of enterprise are equally available to owner-managed firms.

For example, service bureaus can provide computer services; consortia of small firms can provide efficiencies in purchasing or in negotiating consulting services; trade associations can provide economies in promotion, training and standardization; and special financial institutions can offset the natural bias of the capital markets against small enterprises. And, of course, institutions like the Canadian Federation of Independent Business can provide the collective political muscle.

The enterprising Japanese have also destroyed the North American myth that bigness is needed to compete in export markets. Forty-nine per cent of Japan's export sales come from small and medium-sized businesses.

Bigness is really a philosophical question - whether power and control should be centralized or decentralized. By their very nature, small and medium-sized enterprises distribute power and control. But their social effect is far reaching. As they prosper, they develop regions, build communities and provide opportunities for individuals.

WHERE THERE'S A WILL THERE'S A WAY

Individual initiative and resourcefulness are still alive and well. Two stories from Britain concerning current major problems of drought and vandalism illustrate this fact.

ERNIE'S PRIVATE BRAIN DRAIN

The neighbours glowered from their parched gardens as Ernest Nimmo gave his blooming flowers and thriving vegetables a good soaking. There he was, bold as brass, watering everything in site with the hosepipe as if the stuff just fell out of the sky.

It was just too much for any public-spirited citizen to stand - so they reported him to the water board. And it took a warning letter and a visit from an official to discover how crafty Ernest is beating the great drought with a clear conscience. He's got his own private water works.

Inside Ernest's house on Broadstairs, Kent, is an array of pipes and valves and pumps for collecting and recycling every drop of water his family uses. Bath water, dish water, water from the washing machine - it all gurgles through Ernest's do-it-yourself system and into a garbage can ready for spraying on the garden.

"Anyone who's a bit practical could do what I've done," said Ernest after being given the all-clear by the water board. "I'm proud of my garden and when the water regulations came in I had no intention of letting my flowers and vegetables die. And I must say I've had the most superb results. I've grown the best peaches ever - and everyone at the office is buying my tomatoes."

GEORGE'S COAL SHED CALLING

You can dial round the world from George Summerfield's coal-shed. The Post Office, which is responsible for telephones, has just installed a 'phone in the shed. It's just past the kitchen fuel, then left around the kindling wood and above the garden rake. The installation costs of the phone, complete with coin box and directories have been paid by South Holland Council in Lincolnshire.

"It's obviously cheaper than providing an ordinary kiosk," said a council spokesman. "The coal shed owner can also keep vandals away - although strangers are faced with the problem of identifying the shed as a phone booth."

George, a 60-year-old widower who lives in the village of Donington has broadened his social life since the phone was installed. "I'm making a lot of new friends," he said. George laughed and added: "It's a funny set up but it's working very well."

The idea is already catching on. Another telephone has been installed in the coal shed of Mrs. Esther Powell at Surfleet near Spalding.

A HEALTHY MIND IS HEALTH

Marc Lalonde, minister of National Health and Welfare, in an address to the 11th International Conference on Health Education outlined his department's philosophy in the area of health. He said, "When you get down to basics, any proposal for the improvement of the human condition is a problem of the health of the mind ... I mean that form of mental health that is the depth and preciseness of mind."

He said that we often get stuck on the notion of a healthy body and forget the healthy mind, but it is as appropriate to propose that physical health is as much a result of mental health as vice versa. Soundness of mind is the major force which leads an individual to make decisions and conduct himself so that there is self-realization and personal development.

The university without a campus

When Athabasca University was founded five years ago, it began, under the direction of President T. C. Byrne, to make plans to build a campus on 500 acres at St. Albert, a campus to house the 10,000 students who were expected to overflow from the other universities in the province. Quite soon, however, university enrolments ceased their sharp climb, and, coincidentally, the Social Credit government which had inaugurated the institution fell from power.

Given these circumstances, the new Conservative government re-thought the project, and decided that a fourth campus of the same basic type as the other three already-established universities was not needed. Rather than scrap the idea entirely, however, the government became interested in a different kind of university, one designed to meet the needs of adults who were being served inadequately by conventional universities.

In Britain, the Open University was having great success in bringing university education to the student in his or her home, and similar projects in the United States, Australia, and South Africa were also showing great promise. A Pilot Project was begun in December, 1972, to run for a three to five year period. The aim of the Project was to demonstrate that university studies could be packaged and delivered for home-based study; and to demonstrate their significant numbers of people wanted and could benefit from the offerings of an alternative type of university.

During the period of the Pilot Project, which lasted until November 1975, students were interested in a different kind of university, one designed to meet the needs of adults who were being served inadequately by conventional universities. Under the university's open admissions policy, according to which adult students over 18 may register and attempt courses without any academic prerequisites, a varied and widely scattered student body was enrolled. Students ranged in age from 18 to 90, lived in the major cities, in northern communities, and on farms, and had varied occupations, including professionals, secretaries, labourers, housewives, and the retired.

After three years, the Pilot Project had demonstrated conclusively that courses could be delivered for at-home study, and that a definite need had been filled. In November, 1975, therefore, the University was granted permanent status as a university granting baccalaureate degrees.

Permanent status has meant some major changes. Course offerings are increasing, and the delivery system is being elaborated. Regional learning centres are being established, and a network of part-time local tutors has been employed to back up the print and media learning materials.

The university is funded by the provincial government through the Department of Advanced Education and Manpower, and is a degree-granting institution at the undergraduate level. Financial assistance is available to students, as at other universities.

Looking Through The Files

NINE YEARS AGO
(September 27th, 1967 issue)

On the afternoon of Sunday, September 24th, a large group of St. Albert residents gathered at the grotto behind the St. Albert Roman Catholic Church to participate in an Inter-Faith Centennial Service of Thanksgiving. Present were Reverend R. Olson, Reverend L. Musto, Father J. Bidault, Reverend C. Dawkins, and Father C. Levangie.

The St. Albert Hercules soccer team came through with a weekend win and brought home the handsome trophy cup and championship of the Edmonton Minor Soccer League beating the Victoria Ritchie Club of Edmonton in a two-game total point final. A picture of the winning team included: Jimmy Winters, Donnie Hunt, John Burrows, Peter Bosiak, John Field, Gary Ferguson, Barry Alliston, Gary Larsen, Gordie Brown, and Alan Eschak. Also on the team but missing from the picture were: Dennis Mercir, Ron Verbeck and George Holden.

FIRE DRILLS

Under the Fire regulations Fire drills must be carried out in all the schools where it is the responsibility of the school principals to draw up evacuation procedures and put to practice by holding fire drills so as in case of fire the children will know what to do. Now these children, do they know what to do in case of a Fire in their own Home. Have you as a family discussed evacuation procedures out of your home in case of Fire. Statistics show that more people die from fire in homes than any other place which indicates the importance of holding Fire evacuation drills at your home also. Think about it.

STOP SPREAD OF FIRE

Smoke and heat danger in case of fire in a home can be greatly reduced by the practice of Fire Safety. On leaving your home for any period of time the precautions to take - close all doors, unplug all appliances that are not necessary to be plugged in such as T.V., lamps etc., and have some reliable person check your home daily. If at any time you notice a problem in your appliances or extension cords have these corrected immediately thus doing away with a potential start of Fire.

From the Mayor's office Location of recreation facilities in St. Albert

The problems that St. Albert has experienced in locating major indoor recreational facilities in the community clearly exemplifies the need for comprehensive land use planning far in advance of any short run anticipated needs for capital intensive recreational and cultural services. As matters presently stand the majority of the residents of St. Albert are desirous of parking the services provided by a new covered swimming pool and arena; however, relatively few individuals are enthused with the prospect of giving up any open space in terms of existing school land or parkland to accommodate the location of the facility in one of the Town's developed neighbourhoods.

The problems created by increased vehicular traffic moving to and from these sites coupled with the loss of open space virtually ensures that relatively few of our existing public areas qualify as suitable locations.

The ability to physically accommodate a structure on a site is not an adequate criteria for the location of a facility. One must evaluate the total impact on the individual residents in the area along with the servicing and other related costs.

LOCATION DECISIONS

1. Original Proposal

The original proposal to locate a multi-purpose recreational and cultural facility on the Oblate site was partially predicated on the fact that the community would be able to acquire 15 acres of land pre-dedicated by the Oblates which had good vehicular access and a minimal impact on any developed sector of the community. The vote on the money bill held on January 13, 1976 was negative and the council decided to have a complete re-appraisal of the community's recreational and cultural preferences undertaken before any additional proposals were formulated.

11. Consultation

A sub committee of the Parks and Recreation Board held meetings throughout various areas of St. Albert during the middle part of April and sent an opinionnaire to all households in the community in order to ensure that all of the residents had an opportunity to set forth their views and opinions regarding the type of facilities they wished to see developed, the preferred location and the amount they wished to spend.

111. Recommendations

Regarding Location

Six hundred and twenty replies were received from the 5,861 opinionnaires which were sent to all the households. The results pertaining to the location of the covered indoor swimming pool and the arena were as follows:

1. 80% of respondents requested construction of an indoor swimming pool and of this number:

(a) 44% indicated a preference for the Paul Kane area

(b) 9% indicated a preference for a central location

(c) 6% indicated a preference as to location in Lacombe Park

(d) 26% indicated no preference as to location

(e) 15% other

2. 36% of respondents requested construction of a second arena and of this number:

(a) 13% indicated a preference for the Paul Kane area

(b) 11% indicated a preference for the Lacombe Park area

(c) 10% indicated a preference for a central location

(d) 44% indicated no preference as to location

(e) 22% other

A number of valid criticisms can be made regarding the statistical validity of the returns; however, if the results are accepted at face value it is evident that the Paul Kane area was the single most preferred location for the swimming pool (56% of the respondents expressed "other or no preferences" while 44% gave a priority to the Paul Kane area). The results obtained from the replies on the arena location indicated that 44% of the respondents did not have a specific preference with respect to location of the arena (56% expressed preferences for a variety of locations with the Paul Kane and Lacombe Park areas receiving the two highest ratings - 13 and 14% respectively).

DECISIONS: PARKS AND RECREATION BOARD

The Parks and Recreation Board utilized this information and the input that was received from various individuals and groups to recommend that: (1) the swimming pool should be located in the Paul Kane area; and (2) the arena should be located in the

COUNCIL

A special ad hoc committee of council was established to make recommendations to council regarding the optimal site location for the pool and arena having full regard for the total factors affecting the location of a facility in a given area. After careful consideration of sites in the Paul Kane area - sites located at the High School, near Lorne Atkins, between Vince Maloney School and S.A.M. and Fountain Park - the committee recommended that the site in Fountain Park would best serve the overall needs of St. Albert. Council debated and accepted this recommendation after it was shown that the ornamental part (fountain, flower beds, etc.) of the park would not be effected by the location of the pool and that the traffic impact on the surrounding areas would be minimal.

The mixed results obtained from the opinionnaire results regarding the arena location (44% expressed no preference) created more difficulties. Numerous locations were examined throughout all of St. Albert. After careful consideration it was decided that the parks and recreation board recommendation for a location in the northwest sector should be followed. Careful attention was focused on the St. Albert High School site. After a thorough examination of the traffic access and egress to the area it became very apparent that the location of an arena at the St. Albert High School site would have a very negative impact on the residences abutting the area and exacerbate the problems that residents in Mission have been experiencing with respect to traffic noise and congestion. Analysis of other sites in Lacombe and Mission indicated that the only site available which could serve as an acceptable location for the arena was the land that had been pre-dedicated by the Oblates. Council debated and accepted the recommendation to locate the arena on the Oblate site.

The net result was that the council's decisions to locate the pool in Fountain Park and the arena on the Oblate site were in direct accord with the Parks and Recreation Board's recommendations to Please Turn to Page 9

Crafts, sports, social events keep seniors on the go

The Senior Citizens' Club is getting into gear for the fall and winter and the members invite all senior citizens living in St. Albert and district to join them - there'll be a warm welcome at the Centre (north of the curling rink).

Membership is only $1.00 per year but membership is not obligatory although there will be a few events throughout the year which will be for members only.

Anyone interested in information about the club and what goes on at the Centre should phone Dan Richardson at 459-6229 or Lily Szubson at 459-8809.

Wednesday, September 22 was to be the first of the arts and crafts sessions which will be held every Wednesday at 1:30 p.m. Gentlemen will not be refused admission but all ladies are given a special invitation to come and help make articles which will be sold at the Christmas sale on December 4. (Materials are supplied).

Bowling which was very popular last year starts on Thursday, September 23. Phone John Volmer about this activity which takes place every Thursday from 9:30 - 11:30 a.m.

Thursday is also the day when a limited number of "meals on wheels" are delivered to the Centre. Any "senior" who would like to have an occasional lunch there should phone Hettie Blades at 459-4756 or Pat Gray at 459-7476. Or anyone knowing a senior who would benefit from such a meal should phone either of these two lady volunteers who look after the meal service. They also arrange for a short program which usually follows the lunch at 1:15 p.m. to which everyone is invited.

On Thursday, September 23, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Evans will be showing some of their very extensive slide collection - according to Mr. Evans, the accumulation of 20 years! However, they won't all be shown at one go and Thursday's presentation will be mostly of Ireland.

The first of the social evenings held on the first Friday of each month will be held on October 1. Starting at 7 p.m. there will be an evening of entertainment arranged by Mr. Emile Laplante. The November social on November 5 will take the form of an Olde Thyme Dance which will be held in the Community Hall. Take a note of the date and watch for further details.

Saturday, September 25 is the last Saturday of the month and is therefore the day when the "Almost New" shop is open at the Centre from 1 - 4 p.m. All kinds of clothes can be picked up at bargain prices - a fact that should be of particular interest to parents.

The Centre is open on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays from 7 - 9 p.m. for "dropping in." It is one of the best in the province and recent visitors from Barrhead and Fort Saskatchewan were very impressed. So all seniors are invited to join in the activities or drop in on these evenings to meet and get to know people, maybe have a game of cards or pool, watch coloured television, pick up a book from the well stocked library or just sit and chat.

And, once again, those numbers for anyone wanting to know more about the Centre or wanting to help or become involved: Lily Szubson at 459-6229, son at 459-8809 or Dan Richardson at 459-8809.

"Hello, Gazette - there are some strange white things falling from the sky!"
It's not every day that the Gazette receives calls like this, and a reporter was dispatched to locate supposed white objects falling from the sky on St. Thomas Street.

"We try to catch them in our hand, and they disappear!"

Many of our readers would pass this whole incident off as just a wild goose chase, but actually it brought out another point - where is St. Thomas Street?

St. Thomas Street is, or at least was, one of the older streets of St. Albert, and existed right up until the work began on the new downtown development, so, as it turned out, the whole incident, was a total loss.

AMERICANS WITHDRAWING FROM SOCIAL SECURITY

PLANNED FOR WETASKIWIN

The Social Security Administration in the United States have released figures showing that over 300,000 workers have served notice of withdrawal from social security during 1975, an increase of 1600% over 1973. Presently only city and state employees and those who work for non-profit organizations may legally withdraw, but a new bill has been introduced which would permit any wage earner to withdraw for "religious" reasons. The Social Security Administration will press for revocation of any withdrawal for any reason.

According to Washington Post News Service the American wage earners are outraged by spiralling social security taxes - and alarmed by reports of the system's imminent fiscal collapse.

Construction of a large shopping complex for Wetaskiwin is slated to start in April next year by Daon Development Corporation of Edmonton. A covered mall of 28,000 feet will integrate the project in a total floor area of 658,070 square feet. The mall is to include two department stores, a food store, twin cinemas, a bank, drug store and hardware store among others.

LETHBRIDGE TO GET FOOD PLANT

General Foods plan to build a plant and distribution centre in Lethbridge to serve Western Canada. Land and building costs are estimated at over $12 million and begin with the plant will manufacture cold beverages and dessert products, employing about 100 people.

Teen News and Views

By Kelly Daniels
Community Youth Worker

As is usually the case there is more to most stories than first meets the eye and so it was with my last week's column. I extend my apologies to those concerned and I hope we can get together without the communication problems on another teen activity in the future.

For those disbelievers among us who do not think teens in St. Albert are starving for leisure activities you should come out to one of the small disco-coffee houses that have been staged in local clubhouses lately. Friday night there was such an activity in Lacombe Clubhouse and the doors had to be shut at 9 o'clock because of the mass turnout. Mr. Claude Durand and Mrs. Howe as well as myself supervised and everyone had a super time with no problems reported.

Developments in the acquisition of the Teen Recreation Centre are moving slower than expected but now that summer is ended I hope to be able to report more favorably in the near future. Local businesses and service clubs are currently being canvassed and different teen organizations are well into money making activities to hold up their end of the project.

Some more odds and ends to finish off this week include the development of a mixed broomball league for teenagers this winter if enough interest is shown and rink time is available.

Also a bake sale to raise money for the teen centre is being planned for the Grandin Mall on the October 23 weekend so keep an eye open.

Before I forget I'd like to mention the three adults who are working with the teens in gaining support for this cause. Mr. and Mrs. Kelly and Mrs. Webster have been giving their support from the outset and the success of this venture will be accredited greatly to their assistance.

Reverend Richard Moore of 12324 - 134 Street, Edmonton was enjoying his hobby last Saturday afternoon at the St. Albert airport - flying model airplanes. The plane in the picture is a Skylark with a .40 engine, which Rev. Moore built himself. He also has an Atromaster Bi-Plane in the works at present. It takes about 20 - 23 hours of work to build one of these 'toys,' and this can spread over several weeks or even months depending on the amount of time one has to spend on it. Rev. Moore said that he would like to enter some flying competitions next year if he could fit it into his schedule. "But I'll have to do a lot of work on my landings before then," he said.

GOD'S WILL

God's will and invitation to "Come, Follow me" is for all people. 11 Peter 3:9 says,
"The Lord is not slack
concerning His promise;
some men count slackness;
but is long suffering to us, not willing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance."
We first experience His will
in our salvation experience.

For the remainder of our lives Christ wants us to make His will and way first in our lives. Rev. Dietrich Bonhoeffer, a German Christian who was slain by the Nazis has rightfully said that when Jesus bids one come, he bids him come and die. In other words, the cross is an integral part of the call and will of God.

He went on to say that
cheap grace is the bitterest
foe of all true discipleship.
To know the will of God one can not separate the saviour.

ship of Christ from his lordship.

Being in the family of God is based on the finding and doing His will. Christ answered them, "Who is my mother? and who is my brother? and he stretched forth his hand toward his disciples and said, Behold
my mother and my brethren!
For whosoever shall do the will of my Father which is in heaven, the same is my brother, and sister and mother."

New Pastor gives first sermon

Viewing the Bible as an
"historically reliable book"
and making a commitment to Jesus Christ are the two main themes stressed by Reverend Irwin Kujat, pastor of the Sturgeon Valley Baptist Church. The Church is a very recent addition to the St. Albert area and Pastor Kujat has been leading the group for little more than two months.

Pastor Kujat, his wife
Louise and their three children, Sonya - six years, Darryl
- three years, and Angela - one year arrived in St. Albert the first week in July and he preached his first sermon on Sunday the 4th of July. The Kujats had been living in Olds, Alberta for the four years prior to their move to St. Albert. Rev. Kujat served the East Olds Baptist Church about 11 miles east of Olds.

Pastor Kujat was born in Poland and moved to Canada in 1951. He received most of his education in White-mouth, Manitoba, just east of Winnipeg. While living in Manitoba Rev. Kujat taught both elementary and secondary school for six years.
During this time he was also working on his B.A. at the Mennonite Brethren Bible
College and at Waterloo Lutheran University. He then went to the United States to study at Sioux Falls, South Dakota at the North American Baptist Seminary. He graduated in 1972 with his Master of Divinity.

Since taking up his position at the Sturgeon Valley Baptist Church, Pastor Kujat has been trying to visit the people who take part in the Church and its activities. The first service of the Church was held on April 4th in Paul Kane High School, where the services will continue being held until a building can be financed and constructed.

An organizational meeting was held last Wednesday, September 15th at which time the constitution and organization of the Church committee was formed but it looks like it may be some time before the group will be able to locate a suitable spot of land on which to build their new building.

Pastor Kujat stressed the development of a good teaching program concerning the word of God. He hopes that the Church will become involved with the boys and girls in the community through club work and that it will also play a definite role in the development of strong family ties.

"A community Church is what we are hoping to be,"
said Pastor Kujat. "We have the welfare of the total community in mind and we hope to be able to take an active part in all local activities."

Witnesses session in Barrhead

Organizational arrangements have been completed for the forthcoming semi-annual circuit assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses on Saturday and Sunday, September 25, 26. Upwards of 700 delegates from eight rural congregations and one Edmonton congregation are expected to attend sessions to be held at Stehlin School in Barrhead. The program will include morning and afternoon sessions devoted to Bible talks, discussions and demonstrations on assisting new ones in their use of the Bible and declaring the good news to others. There will also be a baptism of new members on Sunday morning.

The highlight of the convention will be the talk "Keep Seeking God's Kingdom," which will be given by T. Didur, district supervisor of Jehovah's Witnesses, on Sunday, September 26, at 2 p.m.

D. Held circuit director for congregations in circuit Alberta 3B will also be a featured speaker. Mr. Held directs the ministry work of the congregations to be represented.

Chairman of the United Way campaign visits St. Albert

Frank Spragins, chairman of the United Way campaign was in St. Albert Monday evening to speak to about 40 volunteer women who are acting as local poll and area captains. His visit comes in advance of the first effort in St. Albert, the businessmen's blitz this evening.

A mail solicitation has gone out to the business places and it is hoped that those not called upon will respond by mail. A separate night for business canvass is a new approach this year.

Mr. Spragins had information on various people and groups who are helped by United Way funding in St. Albert, such as Scouts, Guides, handicapped people using Edmonton facilities, V.O.N. and eyebanks. A film was shown as well.

The town has been divided into four areas for the residential canvass to be held October 25th, just after the United Way Telethon. Any one willing to assist as a volunteer canvasser should telephone Sandra Chambers, at 458-0396, as more canvassers are much needed and your help would be appreciated.

Subsidized Montessori kindergarten opening

On Friday, September 24th at 8 p.m. at the Kinsmen Clubhouse, 135 Larose Drive, there will be a meeting for any parents interested in enrolling their children in a government subsidized Montessori kindergarten program (ages 4½ - 6) or a non-subsidized Montessori nursery program (ages approximately 3 - 4½).

At this meeting the aims and objectives of the Montessori method and the Montessori philosophy will be presented by the co-ordinator.

Learning equipment (and the rationale for the design of the equipment) will be demonstrated, and parents will be invited to work with the equipment if they wish.

Prior to this presentation there will be an election of five officers, who along with the co-ordinator, will make up a body of six members who will be called a Local Advisory Committee (L.A.C.).

A clear definition of the role of, and function of the L.A.C. will be given at that particular meeting. Three parents who have children in the present kindergarten program, and two parents who will have children (4½ on Sept. 1, 1977) in next year's kindergarten program, qualify for election. Parents may volunteer to stand for office in this election.

Subsidized bus transportation will be discussed.

Following the meeting coffee and cookies will be served. Parents may then socialize and visit the school.

Mrs. Maureen Patterson of Edmonton:

Maureen Patterson of Edmonton now has six inches of insulation in her attic. She's saving energy and money.

"With fuel prices going crazy, we added insulation in the attic. Now the house is more comfortable and we've cut our gas consumption by about 12%."

Adding insulation is one of the best investments you can make.

Keeping the heat in helps to conserve Canada's dwindling energy reserves. And cuts your fuel bills.

Add insulation, caulking, weather-stripping and storms. Have your furnace tuned for peak efficiency. Keep a light hand on the thermostat.

You'll save money for yourself, and help Canada to conserve energy and fight inflation. No wonder insulation is one of the best investments you can make. Remember, too, that many insulation products are now exempt from Federal sales tax.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

Please be advised that the Council of the Town of St. Albert proposes to pass Bylaw No. 30/76 being a bylaw to rezone all that portion of River Lots 47 and 48, Plan 762-1550, St. Albert Settlement, as shown on the attached map.

From 'DC' to 'R1c'
From 'DC' to 'P'

The proposed Bylaw No. 30/76 may be examined between the hours of 9:00 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. weekdays at the Office of the Municipal Secretary in the Town Hall, St. Albert.

A public hearing on the proposed bylaw will be held in the Council Chambers, Town Hall Annex, on Monday, October 4, 1976 at 7:45 p.m.

Written representations concerning the manner in which any provision of the proposed bylaw may affect him will be received by the Municipal Secretary until 12:00 noon on Friday, October 1, 1976. Persons wishing to make oral representation may do so by appearing at the public hearing.

university, college or institution to another. In most cases the transferring student does not receive full credit for all the courses previously taken and must suffer a set-back in his/her education program.

Steps have been taken by the Government of Alberta to alleviate this situation. The Council on Admissions and Transfers, appointed in 1974 by the Minister and operating with the support of the Department of Advanced Education and Manpower, was charged with the improvement of arrangements for the transfer of credits among universities, colleges, technical institutes and other post-secondary institutions.

During 1975, the first year of operation, the Council studied various transfer policies and transferred in effect among Alberta's institutions of higher education. It then proposed a policy for admissions and transfer of credit at Alberta universities. This policy was revised and approved by all institutions and by the department, and recognizes four transfer arrangements: (a) university transfer programs, (b) diploma, certificate, and other specified programs, (c) special inter-institutional arrangements, and (d) individual assessment. The policy also requires that credit equivalencies be listed annually in a Provincial Transfer Guide.

The Guide is intended for joint use by students, teachers and administrators in all post-secondary institutions - to inform them of the nature and the detail of credit equivalencies at other institutions. In the first (1967-77) edition of the Guide, the emphasis is on college and institute programs recognized for credit at Alberta universities.

Sending institutions in the 1976-77 Guide include The Banff Centre, Grande Prairie Regional College, Grant MacEwan Community College, Lethbridge Community College, Medicine Hat College, Mount Royal College, Northern Alberta Institute of Technology, Red Deer College, and Southern Alberta Institute of Technology. Receiving institutions are University of Alberta, University of Calgary and University of Lethbridge.

Much to learn from Quebec

By KENNETH McDONALD
There is a grave danger that bilingualism will be made the scapegoat for many of the far more serious problems that threaten Canada's future.

The blazing absurdities of the federal program - trying to make 55-year-old civil servants fluent in French; sending senior mandarins and wives on year-long immersion courses - have obscured the legitimate goal of bringing a sense of partnership to the two founding races.

It's a tragedy that Canadians should be engaged in a national debate on an issue like language, a debate which serves only to weaken the national fibre. The political focus in a country such as Germany, for example, is on issues such as apprenticeship training and co-worker determination, which serve to strengthen the nation.

It's easy to sympathize with Quebec's concern for the preservation of its traditions and language. Though Quebecers represent 25 per cent of Canada's population, they are a shrinking minority on the North American continent. And despite what people may think in Victoria or Charlottetown, Quebecers aren't trying to push French down anyone's throat - that's been the preoccupation of self-seeking politicians and bureaucrats.

Together we need to build a more governable society in which social tension and alienation are reduced; family and community life strengthened. These are goals which French and English Canadians can share.

Krieser - Cairns united in St. Albert

Cindy Cairns, daughter of Albert and Phyllis Cairns of Sylvan Crescent, St. Albert was united in marriage to Stan Krieser, son of Arnold and Hilda Krieser of Caden, Alberta, on August 7th. Father Jacques Joly officiated at the double ring wedding service held in St.

Albert Roman Catholic Church. The intentions were read by Danny Lyndon.

Mrs. Bernice Willas, organist, played "Love Me Tender" the theme song of Love Story as the wedding party entered and "Song of Joy" as they left.

During the ceremony Kent Kuzinski, a friend of the groom, sang the Hawaiian Wedding Song, accompanying himself on the guitar.

The bride was lovely in a long gown of crepe and georgette, fashioned with bell sleeves and featuring a cathedral train and long trailing veil. She carried a bouquet of red sweetheart roses. Maid of honour was the bride's sister Gail in a gown of soft pink. Bridesmaids Jean Sutherland and Shirley Tolman were gowns of pastel yellow and green respectively, and carried medley bouquets.

The groom, in a powder blue tuxedo, was attended by his brother Dwayne as best man and groomsmen Bruce Pallet and Don McIntyre, all in midnight blue tuxedos.

Ushering the guests were Jim Cairns, brother of the bride, and Murray Krieser, brother of the groom.

A reception followed at Convention Inn West, when the mother of the bride received her guests in a dress and coat ensemble of blue floral chiffon. The mother of the groom chose a gown of floral satin.

George Amyotte of St. Albert was master of ceremonies for the occasion and a toast to the bride was proposed by Mrs. Christina Lyndon of St. Albert, a long time friend of the family.

Special guests were the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James Cairns of Kelwood, Manitoba, relatives of the groom from Provost and other relatives of the bride from Manitoba. Following a camping holiday in Southern Alberta and the northern states the couple made their home in Edmonton.

Denomme - Barke wed in United Church

On Saturday, August 7th, 1976, St. Albert United Church was the setting for the pretty double ring wedding of Kathleen Louise Barke, eldest daughter of Lt. Col. and Mrs. F. M. Barke, St. Albert, and Romeo

Lawrence Denomme, only son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Denomme of Ottawa, Ont. Rev. L. Musto united the happy couple in marriage. Entering the church on her father's arm, the bride was radiant in her long white gorgeously dress with flowing train. Her full length veil was caught in a head dress of pink sweetheart roses and lily of the valley. The bride's tear-drop shaped bouquet was of pink sweetheart roses, with white mums and daisies. Her only jewellery was a dainty gold brooch, a family heirloom.

Kathie's two attendants were her sister Marilyn, maid of honour, and Jocelyn Bilodeau of Edmonton, bridesmaid. Both girls wore matching mauve gowns, trimmed with purple satin ribbon, with wide brimmed white hats, trimmed to match their dresses. The two lovely attendants carried baskets of pink sweetheart roses and white daisies.

The groom looked handsome in his pale blue tuxedo. A pink sweetheart rose boutonniere completed his outfit. Romeo was attended by his close friend Don Lafleur from Aylmer, Que. also in a pale blue tuxedo. The two ushers were Martin Barke, brother of the bride, and Garnet Clarke of St. Albert. Both wore navy blazers and light blue trousers for the occasion.

A delightful reception was held at the Northgate Inn St. Albert, in the tastefully decorated dining room. The bride's mother chose a pale blue and mauve polyester gown with a yellow rose corsage, to receive her guests. The groom's mother chose a dusty pink nylon gown with matching cape and pink corsage for the occasion. Before dinner was served Kathie presented her mother and new mother-in-law with a beautiful long stemmed red rose each.

The head table was centered by a three tiered wedding cake, with pink trimming, and pink candles on either side. A floral arrangement of glads, mums and daisies also complemented the table. Master of ceremonies for the evening was Dr. Donald Kohut, Cayley, Alberta, the bride's uncle. A toast was proposed to the bride by Garry Kohut, the bride's cousin also of Cayley. After the cutting of the wedding cake Kathie and Romeo passed among their friends and relatives with the cake. The young couple was also very honoured by the presence of three grandparents Mr. and Mrs. O. N. Barke of Calgary, and Mrs. W. Thompson, St. Albert.

Shortly after the dance began the bride tossed her bouquet which was caught by Miss Joanne Gagnon from Peace River. The groom then threw the bride's garter and this was caught by Wayne Buckler of St. Albert.

Out of town guests were from Ottawa, Ontario, Aylmer, Quebec, Calgary, Cayley, Medicine Hat, Red Deer and Peace River; Alberta. The guest book was attended by Mrs. Robert Hotel, Medicine Hat.

For her going away outfit Kathie chose a rose nylon pant suit with white polka dots. The young couple spent a two week honeymoon in eastern Canada, and are now residing in Calgary.

Time for Canada geese triangles

Canada geese are joining their familiar triangle formations across grey skies and trees are shedding their leaves in the brisk, cold winds.

National Parks are shedding some of their summer activities, too.

Many facilities are closing down for the season and warm weather interpretive programs will soon come to an end. Nevertheless, nature displays a strange and different beauty in winter, and Parks Canada keeps some facilities open so that visitors can enjoy the western parks' wonders all year.

The following are closing dates of most facilities and programs in the western national parks.

Pollard - Bokenfohr wed in St. Albert

The St. Albert Roman Catholic Church was the scene of a lovely wedding August 21, 1976 when Carol Bokenfohr, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Bokenfohr, of St. Albert became the bride of Darryl Pollard, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Pollard, of Lloydminster, Saskatchewan. Gladioli banked the altar for the double ring ceremony officiated by Father Joly.

Escorted by her father, the bride entered the church wearing a floor length gown of organza over taffeta with a slightly raised waistline and full bishop sleeves trimmed with gupure lace featuring a bustle back with a deep flounce skirt. Her finger-tipped veil was caught to a lace-crest. She carried a bouquet of red sweetheart roses and stephanotis.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was Lorraine Dwernychuk, cousin of the bride, Laura Cameron, friend of the bride, and Donna Bokenfohr, sister of the bride.

The matron of honor and the bridesmaids wore identical gowns of white polyester crepe with pink and red roses. Each wore a white floppy brimmed hat trimmed with pink ribbon. They carried bouquets of pink and white carnations with tiny star flowers.

Shauna Mansfield, niece of the groom, was flowergirl. She wore an identical gown to the bridesmaids and carried a basket of carnations.

Ringbearer was Todd Mansfield. Ushering the guests were Calvin Pollard and Dan La'Berge.

Assisting Father Joly at mass were Colin Wear and Kenneth La'Berge. Readings from the good book were done by Sandra Mansfield, sister of the groom and Allan Bokenfohr, brother of the bride. The intentions were read by Donna Bokenfohr, sister of the bride.

The wedding music was played by Mrs. Bertha Kennedy. Soloist was Mrs. Doris Tellier.

MR. & MRS. DARRYL POLLARD

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to express our sincere thanks to our friends and neighbours during the recent bereavement of the loss of our dear brother, Paul.

NICK MUZICHUK AND FAMILY.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Bokenfohr wore a dusty rose polyester ensemble with a pleated skirt. Mrs. Bokenfohr wore a corsage of white orchids.

The groom's mother wore a chiffon empire waisted white gold and mauve gown with ruffled high neckline and long sheer sleeves. Mrs. Pollard's corsage was a white orchid.

Later in the evening a reception was held at the Morinville Community Centre. Master of ceremonies Daniel La'Berge, cousin of the bride, welcomed the guests. The blessing of the meal was given by Mr. Ferdinand Bokenfohr. Raymond Rouault gave the toast to the bride in which the groom ably replied.

A few chosen words about the groom were given by Tom Cabana, uncle of the groom. A dance followed later with the music being supplied by the Starlights.

For her honeymoon to B.C., Carol dawned a brown gabardine pant suit accentuated by a corsage of orange Wollenabby roses.

Out of province guests were from B.C., Saskatchewan and the U.S.A. Also attending were friends and relatives from various points in Alberta.

NEED FOR VOLUNTARY AGENCY IN HOME NURSING

A study initiated by the Victorian Order of Nurses for Canada to examine the voluntary agency's future role in home nursing care, urges that the VON "publicly state its case for being recognized as the agency for delivering the nursing component in Home Care programs."

Made available for release recently by Robert G. Smeeth, president, VON for Canada, the report was prepared by Edward A. Pickering, a Toronto business consultant, and chairman of the Ontario Health Disciplines Board.

Mr. Pickering says that with the development of government controlled Home Care programs, the VON "stands in grave danger of being displaced as the vehicle for delivering nursing care."

He notes that "this has already happened in British Columbia where VON programs and personnel have been taken over on Vancouver Island, and where plans are far advanced for a similar takeover on the lower mainland."

Plan 24 is the action savings plan that never stops working for you. It's a totally new concept in savings plans and is available only at your credit union.

Plan 24 is designed to maximize interest earned on short term deposits. Unlike other savings vehicles, a Plan 24 account earns interest on the daily balance every 24 hours, not every month, or every quarter.

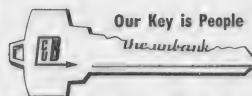

For example, if you started a regular savings plan into which you deposited $25 every Friday, starting on the fifth day of the first month, and your account received a nominal interest rate of 7%, Plan 24 would actually earn you 47% more interest in the first three months than a comparable thirty day deposit account. In fact, Plan 24 at 7% would earn you more than the other account, even if it paid 10% for the same period.

That is why every day more Canadians are saving at their credit union with a Plan 24 account. Ask us for details, and start a Plan 24 account with us right away.

Remember, with Plan 24 every day makes a difference!

Willowbrook retains first place

In minor football action this week Willowbrook defeated Standard Generals to keep a firm hold on first place, while Carma edged Floyd's Towing leaving these teams tied for second in the four-team league.

A late charge by Standard General fell short of expectations this week and victory eluded the team again, by a 28-22 margin.

Willowbrook built a large 28-0 score by the third period on touchdowns by Chris Johnstone in the first quarter; John Holden converted for two points.

In the second quarter, Sedgewick passed to Rassmussen for 20 yards and another major. Holden again converted. Johnstone then scored his second major of the day on a five yard pass from Sedgewick. Rounding out Willowbrook's scoring was Kory Stevens on a 30 yard run.

Standard General got their offense in gear in the third quarter with Terry Doucher sprinting 40 yards for a major score. In the fourth quarter Harold Roscher took a pass from Mike Tessier for 15 yards and a T.D. Roscher then converted for two points. Later Roscher on a 50 yard reverse play scored another T.D. and then converted.

CARMA GETS NEW QUARTERBACK

Carma led by new quarterback Brian MacLellan evened their record for the year.

Carma drew first blood when Mark Akins, on the first play of the game, ran 37 yards for a touchdown.

Garret Doll evened the score later on a four yard run. He then converted for two points to put Floyd's Towing out in front 8-6. In the second quarter Chris Hughes ran 23 yards for a T.D. and put Carma in the lead 12-8 at half time.

In the third quarter Hughes and Doll each scored a T.D. for their teams but Doll made a two-point conversion to end the third quarter scoring with Carma leading 18-8.

In the fourth quarter

Hughes and Doll again scored for their teams. Converts were both missed and the final score was 24-22. Garret Doll was shaken up late in the game but will probably be fit for next week's action at Langley Park.

Players hopeful of making the rep club are asked not to buy new pants and helmets until their team status is known as all players will be wearing identical pants and helmets.

Coaches for the team this year will be Mr. Al Laplante and Mr. Ed Rusnak.

Players are asked to bring $2.00 per practice to pay for the cost of the ice, and must be fully dressed.

NOTE

Coaches needed

Anyone interested in coaching, managing or just plain helping out in the Calahoo Sports Association minor hockey program this season is asked to attend an organizational meeting Monday, September 27th in the Gazebo.

Oilers open season Sunday

Edmonton "New look" Oilers will officially open their 1967/77 hockey season this Sunday with their first exhibition game of the year against the Pittsburgh Penguins of the National Hockey League.

Penguins were third place finishers in the Prince of Wales division of the NHL, behind Los Angeles Kings and Stanley Cup Champs, Montreal Canadians.

Toronto Maple Leafs eliminated the Penguins in the first round of playoffs in a best of three series, two games to one.

Penguins will be led by their two 50 goal scorers in Pierre Larouche (53) and Jean Pronovost with 52. Both were in the top 10 in the final NHL scoring statistics.

Oilers other three exhibition games will be against the Penguins again on September 28th, St. Louis Blues on September 29th and against Bobby Hull and the Winnipeg Jets October 3rd.

St. Albert's Midgets accepted in NCAMH league

After one year's probation in the North Central Alberta Midget hockey league, St. Albert's representative team has now been accepted as a full fledged member.

St. Albert joined the highly competitive league last season, and as are all first year teams, they were accepted for one year so that other established clubs could assess the team and management.

Last year's club, under coach Doug McConachie, was highly regarded as was the Kinsmen Minor Hockey program, and our application for entry this year was accepted 100 percent.

At the annual league meeting last Sunday morning in Camrose, Sherwood Park was the only other new applicant accepted into the nine-team league which has teams from Wetaskiwin, Camrose, Drayton Valley, Stettler, Ponoka, Leduc, Fort Saskatchewan and St. Albert.

Unsuccessful applicants were from Enoch, Red Deer, Ardrossan and Westlock.

League governor Bill Steen was returned for the second year in that position.

Schedules are now being drawn up and the league schedule will be released shortly.

St. Albert's representative team will be coached this season by Mr. Jeff Armstrong.

MINI-MITES SOCCER team put up an excellent battle on Saturday afternoon at Robert Rundle School.

Lacombe Park Roosters win Mosquito to a championship

The Lacombe Park Red Roosters finally have something to crow about. The Big Red Machine crushed the Eskimos Sunday 15-4 in the third game of a best of three series that had been postponed since late June.

Neil Primeau, the starting pitcher for the Roosters, allowed only three runs in the first three innings, then Rick Pelletier fire-balled in relief and allowed only one unearned run in the last three innings.

Darryl LaBuck, Neil Primeau, Ricky Pelletier, Richard Durocher, Ray Huot and Claude Durocher each scored two runs giving the Roosters the Mosquito Division A championship.

Steve Fougere put the game out of sight in the third inning when he batted in two runs with a bases-loaded bunt down the third baseline that gave the Roosters a commanding 12-3 lead.

Bruce Campbell with two runs for the Eskimos played an errorless game at shortstop, while Greg Lockert and Dean Biolo each added one run for the Division B champions coached by Pat Lockert.

The big hitters in the game were Ernie Chartrand, Darryl LaBuck and Ricky Pelletier each getting a double for the Roosters, while Bruce Campbell doubled and singled for the losing Eskimos.

Both teams played well under warm, sunny skies however clutch hitting by the Roosters combined with some crucial Eskimo errors allowed many of the Rooster runs.

Steve Fougere's attempted bunt bounced off home plate. The young Red Rooster player came through with a big bunt later, bringing in two runs. Eskimo catcher is Greg Lockert in front of Dave Wood, umpire.

CAMERA TIPS FROM EXPERTS

Fall is an ideal time to plan a photo outing, and some of the prettiest picture settings occur around the lakes and streams which have been popular boating sites all summer.

It isn't difficult to capture on film the beauty of Fall, but it does take a little effort to get the really great pictures most of us desire. The professional photographers in Mercury outboards' outdoor recreation department suggest you keep in mind two basic techniques commonly used to get the kind of pictures that appear in calendars and magazines.

Almost all outdoor color can be improved by providing a dark blue sky as background. Often this isn't possible unless a polarizing filter is used. Polarizing intensifies the blues appearing in trees and the sky, and this helps the other colors in your photograph to stand out against the dark horizon.

Check with your local camera store for more information about polarizing filters. They're simple to use and are worth learning about.

Scenic photos are usually enhanced by the addition of action. This can be as little as someone standing in the foreground and looking toward the horizon, or it can be more elaborate with several people roasting hot dogs over a fire, or a similar picnic scene.

It's not difficult to set up such a picture with your family, and the resulting photos will make the extra effort worthwhile. Be sure to choose a site where colorful trees and bushes form a backdrop to the action scene in the foreground.

This Fall, plan to spend a day on the water with your boat and camera. It's a great way to get some family photographs that will be enjoyed for many years.

Mites win soccer title in hard fought match

The St. Albert Mite A team captured the city championship on Saturday defeating Greenfield 4-3. St. Albert boys had to come from beyond twice to tie the game 1-1 and 2-2 but took a 3-2 lead in the second half.

With only a minute left in the game it looked like St. Albert were the winners but Greenfield managed to tie it up and force the game into overtime.

About midway in the first overtime period Manuel Vivoros booted in the winning goal. The Mite team will now go into the provincial final on Sunday against Calgary at the Victoria soccer club on 137th Avenue. Game time is not yet known.

St. Albert fans will see some great soccer and their support can do a lot for the morale of the boys. Check with Herman Kochan for game time, 459-8233.

Bantams make it four in a row

With a win over the Ritchie Club of South Edmonton last Saturday, the St. Albert Bantam A soccer team, coached by Herman Kochan have become Edmonton City Champions for the fourth year in a row.

The score was 2-1 and Herman felt his boys were far from at their best - "they just couldn't seem to get going," but the one goal margin was all they needed.

The team now advances to the provincial finals against their counterparts in Calgary and the match will be played Sunday at the Victoria Soccer Club. Game time is 12 noon.

Considering that the team games two poor players, Mitch Poulin and Scott Livingstone, their performance in reaching the provincials is the more remarkable.

Coach Kochan has been moving up with these young players as they move from one age division to the next and has had six of the boys for five years.

Sewer line hassle calls for solution

Just over 10 days ago there was a seminar on regional government at the University of Alberta attended by many local politicians, both great and small

And if ever an area was ripe for regional government, certainly the Morinville, St. Albert and Sturgeon triangle is.

The level of political dissension in one issue at least has reached such a point that it is crying out for an immediate solution.

And of all things, the fight is over a sewer line to carry waste from Morinville to the St. Albert outfall into the North Saskatchewan River.

Just as a reminder for those whose memories need a jolt and who really dig reading about sewer lines, the growing town of Morinville has been trying for two and a half years to get an adequate sewage disposal facility, with little success.

The line initially would have a capacity for 5,500 people and has been designed for an ultimate capacity of 24,000. Presently the population of Morinville is at the 2,000 mark.

At a recent meeting of the MD of Sturgeon, complications over the building of the line, mainly political, caused one councillor to beg the question of regional government.

The drift of Councillor Walter Van de Walle's argument was, to heck with all the hassle, why not regard the line as a facility for PEOPLE, perhaps getting the provincial government to declare the line a public utility.

M.L.A. Jamison has stated his position at many meetings and less formal occasions throughout the area, that the main purpose of sewer and water lines must be to serve the greatest number of people in the areas they traverse.

The political scene in the St. Albert and Sturgeon area, particularly exemplified in the sewer line issue, needs a strong hand to guide it out of the mess into which it has sunk.

On the one hand you have St. Albert and Morinville who have signed an agreement for Morinville to tie into the St. Albert line.

Then on the other you have an impasse between St. Albert and the MD of Sturgeon because no agreement has been reached on letting the MD share 10 percent of the line. With this in mind, the MD might feel justified in preventing construction of the line.

And to complicate matters even further, St. Albert has recently resolved to bring a restricted development area to control the development of all forms of commercial and residential subdivisions within five miles radius of St. Albert and any proposed annexation area.

This seems far removed from what municipal politics and government is all about - THE NEEDS OF PEOPLE.

It will be construed of course that all these complications are about the central issue, the needs of people, but complications cause frustration and slow down the ability of the administrative and executive arms of government to move on with the job in hand.

And this percolates right down to the man in the street, who can't dig a simple trench for a sewer line because of too much hot air being expended in council chambers to no one's advantage.

With more efficiency and less self-interest in local government, the needs of people will be seen to, even in regards to mundane things like sewer line tie-ins.

Perhaps Councillor Van de Walle suggested the best course in the name of efficiency, to make the line a provincial utility.

Provincial rec. grants handed to three Sturgeon communities

Seventy-five thousand, five hundred and seventy-four dollars and eighty-one cents have just been handed out to three Sturgeon communities under the major regional recreation cultural facilities development program.

Biggest share of the cake went to Bon Accord who got $40,337.48 to upgrade their arena, with the next biggest slice, $31,532.36 going to Villeneuve for an addition to their community hall. Lamoureux received $3,704.98 for an addition to their hall.

Disclosure of the grants was made by assistant superintendent for Sturgeon Regional Recreation Larry Kirkpatrick at the regular meeting of the MD September 16th.

At that meeting, the MD decided to set up an information get-together with the Sturgeon Heights Recreational Facilities Association on a request for an indoor swimming pool at the Sturgeon Heights School.

This request has not got beyond the Sturgeon Regional Recreation Council and the Sturgeon Recreation Board. So the SHRFA is pressing for a joint meeting with the two recreation authorities, the MD, and Sturgeons School Division #24 on the swimming pool request.

A specific date has not been set for the meeting but it seems it will be held some Monday evening in late November.

As reclamation of land for the Cardiff recreation park progresses, the MD may set public hearings on the future of the park. It is likely the park will gradually be phased into use, following the outline of the Master Plan.

Mr. Kirkpatrick informed the MD that a Local Initiatives program grant application has been filed for certain labour items, such as clearing snow for skating at the park this winter.

The Provincial grants are part of the government's major recreational program to assist municipalities.

MD needs an assistant assessor

The MD of Sturgeon is looking for an assistant assessor to spread the assessment workload of the MD.

That load is getting so heavy for Assessor Peter Macyk that new residences are springing up in the MD faster than the assessor can keep up with them.

At the regular meeting of the MD September 16th, Mr. Macyk told MD council six new houses in the Villeneuve area and three near Fedotah had been found to be unassessed.

They were on 80 acre parcels which led Mr. Macyk to comment, "Out of these nine I do not think one has grounds to call himself a farmer."

Councillor Lawrence Kluthe observed "lots of things are happening behind clumps of trees and not just after the sun goes down."

Anyway Mr. Macyk called for the MD to advertise for an assistant assessor before he is swamped with more paper work when the next load of assessments come round by mid-October.

Mr. Macyk emphasized he had to have time to go out and investigate the new residences (for assessment purposes).

Coun. Kluthe says the MD should not be finding them, unless they are covered by building permits.

Coun. Kluthe had asked whether all the developments were covered by building permits and Mr. Macyk replied this had not been checked out.

Mr. Macyk pointed out that the MD could pay both the assistant assessor's salary and his own with the additional dollars picked up in catching up on assessments.

And it will become more imperative that the MD solve the assessment problem before the spring, when legislation may be passed for all residents to be assessed.

With the need for an equitable assessment in the MD, Councillor Walter Van de Walle wants provision for a new assessor to forestall peaks and lows in the present assessor's workload.

The MD should be advertising in local papers soon for the assistant assessor's post.

Mound left in middle of road wrecks car

The MD of Sturgeon may have a tricky time sorting out a complaint by a Legal resident who tangled his car with a three foot mound of dirt left recently on Secondary Road 803 as the resident was driving to work.

A Legal resident had a hard time of it driving to work one morning on Secondary Road 803 and the car was severely damaged before the driver made it to Highway 28. No injuries were reported in the resident's letter to the MD, but since the incident the resident says he has had to rent a car or use a bus the odd time to get home from Edmonton.

The letter of complaint was read out at the September 16 meeting of the MD and described how the driver, whose insurance does not cover collision, came to grief.

Councillor Walter Van de Walle was incensed by the report; "You don't push gravel up on the middle of the road and then ... off!" he said.

Although Secretary Treasurer of the MD Alphonse Robert was prepared to admit liability by the MD, Councillor Lawrence Kluthe suggested the person running the road packer, or the contractor might be liable through negligence.

According to the information, weather conditions were rainy and slightly foggy at the time of the accident. The three foot mound of dirt was left in the centre of the road at 4:30 in the morning, the collision occurring two hours later.

It was 7:30 a.m. before a routine road patrol by the MD cleared the three foot mound.

The driver pointed out that a notice warning for loose gravel had been posted on the road and that he had come down to 25 mph before the mound was hit.

New roads to be built in MD of Sturgeon

The MD of Sturgeon has approved construction of six miles of upgraded roads used for gravel haul in the Villeneuve area.

Five miles running two miles north of Villeneuve, and then west, will be constructed, gravelled and oiled by Rexdale to 80,000 lbs. stress, and one mile will be asphalted east of Villeneuve by Alberta Concrete. That road also will be built to handle 80,000 lb. loads.

Both roads will be 32 feet wide. The road improvements have been made possible by a provincial assistance grant of $250,000.

The MD has also decided to go for floodlights at the intersection of Highway 28 and Secondary Road 635, where the Nanao Composite High School will be located.

Major intersection signs are also set to be posted near the school site and the MD also favours a proper turn-off lane off Secondary Highway 635 for school buses arriving at the school.

Councillor Lawrence Kluthe emphasized these developments were vital. "After we get a bus load of kids there it'll be too late," he said.

GILBERT SOETAERT (left) President of the Villeneuve Athletic Association receives a cheque for $31,532.35 from Jim Kyle chairman of the Sturgeon Regional Recreation Council. The cheque will be used for additions to the Villeneuve Hall.

BILL CARLETON (left) President of the Bon Accord Recreation Board is shown receiving a cheque for $40,337.48 from Jim Kyle, chairman of the Sturgeon Regional Recreation Council. The cheque will be used for the completion of additions to the Bon Accord Arena.

I WANT YOUR PROFITS TO GROW. NOT JUST YOUR CROPS.

As the Esso agent in your region, I believe a fertilizer should help profits grow as well as crops.

So you're going to find that Engro in bags or bulk, and anhydrous ammonia, is competitive in price. Which means Engro is going to help your profits and crops grow at the same time.

I have other ways to help your profits grow, too.

Because the wrong type of fertilizer may affect the chance of a better crop, I can use my knowledge, to help you with soil fertilization. I can analyze soil test results, recommend the right chemical grade mix, and advise on bag or bulk purchase. And if I recommend anhydrous ammonia, I can even provide the machinery to apply it.

You see, I believe fertilizers have two jobs. To keep your profits high and your crops growing. And to do that you need a good product at a good price.

So I'll get you a good deal on Engro. Give me a call.

Morinville Ambulance sets operating fee

By Agnes Hokenfohr

During the past month, there has been some controversy among the citizens of this area as to whether the Morinville and District Ambulance Service should be charging for the use of their vehicle. In order to avoid any misconceptions, we will attempt to explain the reason for the decision to charge, and to show a projected financial picture of operating costs involved in running this service.

During the period commencing July 1, 1976 to September 16, 1976 (two and one-half months), 37 people have been transported to hospital as a result of serious injury or illness. During the past month, 868 miles were accumulated, which gives some indication as to the extent to which the vehicle has been used. A probable average of calls would be approximately four per week, although during one 25-hour period the ambulance was used five times.

While some of our patients were residents of Morinville and vicinity, more were people from other areas, either using highways 2 or 28, or working in the surrounding district. It seems unfair that Morinville residents should be totally subsidizing an ambulance service for people not within our boundaries.

OPERATING EXPENSE ADD UP

The volunteers are not paid for their services, but operating expenses add up very quickly.

Projected expenses for one year include: ambulance insurance ($1200.00); gas - 12,000 miles per year, 10 miles per gallon at 76¢ ($912.00); replacement of supplies and oxygen, $50 per month ($600.00); tune-ups and vehicle repairs ($440.00); tires ($100.00); depreciation of vehicle at 20% per year ($2400.00).

Total - $5652.00.

Vehicle depreciation must be considered a valid expense since the unit will eventually have to be replaced, and the ambulance group does not want to have to go back to the people of Morinville for donations when replacement becomes a necessity. It seems much more economically sound to make the service as self-supporting as possible. By far the majority of people are protected by some form of insurance which covers the use of an ambulance. Very seldom does a person have to pay for this out of his own pocket.

Charges for use of the ambulance are: $25.00 for a straight Morinville to St. Albert trip, 65¢ per mile beyond that point, bearing in mind that return mileage must be included.

The members of the Morinville and District Ambulance Service, appreciate the co-operation and support received from the citizens of the community. The donations ensured that residents will have an ambulance at their disposal within minutes, should it be required.

Calahoo plans artificial ice this year

At a meeting of the West Sturgeon Agricultural Society some four weeks ago it was decided to make an effort at raising funds within the Calahoo district for an artificial ice plant for the Calahoo Arena.

Frank Cherkas, committee chairman, reports that to date the response to a plan to raise $100,000 for insulating the building and installing a gas ice plant has been good. By September 14th, 35 people had signed pledges for $1500. apiece.

Under an arrangement with the Edmonton Credit Union Office in St. Albert, funds will be advanced to the Ag. Society on these pledges, as required for the project. The Credit Union will also hold a mortgage on the equipment. Insulation of the building is almost completed by Erin Insulation Ltd., and the ice plant has been ordered from Cimco in Calgary.

Mr. Cherkas is approaching residents and business people in the area, and at a meeting September 13th Mr. Alain and Bonnie Taylor from the Credit Union were on hand to explain the loan plan and help get pledges properly completed. It would take 67 pledges to raise the total, but Mr. Cherkas is hopeful he can get 100 which would reduce the loan amount for which each pledge is responsible.

With the new plant the arena could be kept open eight months of the year and rent revenues would be applied against the loan, again reducing the total for which individual pledges would be responsible.

At a basic rate of $25 an hour, and estimating on the basis of last year's rental revenue, Mr. Cherkas feels that the major share of the $100,000 could actually come from rentals over five years. In addition some savings may be made through volunteer help in trucking the 52 ton plant from Calgary, labour on installation, and perhaps the loan of a small crane for the project.

He further noted that a new subdivision just under way south of Calahoo will house some 200 units and further help can be expected from that quarter.

If all else failed the pledges on the loan would be paid out at $33.15 per month over five years, with the summer months exempted from interest, under the arrangement with the credit union.

Mr. Cherkas hopes the plant will be in operation by November 1st.

The disco will cater primarily to the young people of Bon Accord and the surrounding area. Dress restrictions will be in force. The disco will be open from 8 p.m. - 1 a.m. and will be under the capable management of Nigel Mansfield and Chris Burdett, an experienced musician and entertainer. Good luck to you both in this new endeavour.

A word to expectant mothers -- if you are interested in having a prenatal clinic held in Bon Accord, please phone Pauline Mansfield 921-3625 or Sharon MacFadyen, 921-3815. Six interested parties are required before the clinic can be held.

Badminton anyone? Please call Fae Cherrinton at 921-3968 if you are interested. Although it is very busy time for many, even though you are not able to join in badminton activities right away, it is a good idea to get your name on the list of those interested. Clubs just don't get started without members!

September 29 will be the last regular Farmers' Market at the arena but a wind-up market will be held in conjunction with the Thanksgiving supper on October 11, which is also being held at the arena this year. ## GOLDENAGERS ENJOY TOGETHERNESS

The 30 or so older people who gathered in the Gazebo certainly enjoyed togetherness and were happy to have Mr. and Mrs. Bill Koroz in their midst.

They were sorry to hear that Fred Labonte was also in hospital. All the members are pulling for his wife Madeline too, as she is still in the Royal Alexandra Hospital. Fred was in the Misericordia.

During lunch hour, and when it was time to sing Happy Birthday, there were three recipients, Mrs. G. Elsie Berry; Mr. Bill Koroz and Mr. Phillip Miller.

It's so nice to have Mrs. Clara Loyer back home and doing so well now.

Calahoo Goldenage Club will again meet on Wednesday, September 22 and visitors are always welcome.

On a recent occasion while Pete and Liz McLeod were visiting, at Kris and Mary Dalheim's, they met Mary's friend who was visiting her daughter and family in Edmonton and together they came out to visit Dalheims. Elma and Jim Sparks from Cranbrook, B.C., with Mr. and Mrs. Peter Guzak from Edmonton, were very pleasant company. Mary also enjoyed a pleasant visit with her cousin, Thirza Livingstone recently and while having lunch uptown she was also pleased to have a visit with Mrs. Hesse, who lives on the farm between Morinville and St. Albert and is mother-in-law to Rose (D.

'Hoedt) Hesse.

Joseph Freitag and Pete and Liz McLeod went to Stony Plain to enjoy a meal out, and were pleased to be sitting across from one of Calahoo's fine pioneers in the person of Mrs. E. Alice McNamara, who now resides in Spruce Grove, and her friend Mrs. Laura Grinnage.

Adelard and Melina Paquette certainly enjoyed their trip out to Victoria, B.C., to visit relatives and attend a cousin's wedding on the Labor Day weekend, thus pleasantly surprising all of them.

Mr. George Green of Pincher Creek was a very happy man last week when he was able to meet the bus and bring his daughter, Lillian, Mrs. Erwin Lischewski of Calahoo, home for a visit.

Lillian has just returned and from all reports enjoyed her visit home very much.

with her sisters and brothers and families with good weather.

In her absence, Anita Karin and Mark handled the chores handily while Erwin was away at work. Besides doing their homework, they took time to do a bit of practising for the upcoming horse show.

Debbie Goodmanson stayed over one night and the Lischewski's were invited to their neighbours, the P. McLeods' for a meal just for a change of pace.

BABIES IN THE NEWS

Barry and Loretta Bowen (nee Loyer) are receiving congratulations on the birth of their first born, a son, Randy Wayne, weighing 7 lbs. 9 ozs. and born in the Royal Alexandra Hospital on August 21st. His maternal grandmother, Mrs. Clara Loyer of Calahoo and paternal grandparents, Ford and Betty Bowen of Edmonton are so proud of their new grandson.

Cyanogas available to beekeepers this fall

Cyanogas will be available to Alberta beekeepers this fall for gassing their honey bees.

Ulf Soehngen, supervisor of Alberta Agriculture's apiculture branch, reports that the federal government has agreed to grant provisional registration for Cyanogas for use in gassing honey bees.

"The provisional registration," says Dr. Soehngen, "is good for this fall only, but there is a possibility that it could be extended later, subject to the acquisition of additional data."

He stresses that Cyanogas may be used only after all the honey that is to be extracted has been removed from the colonies. Apiculture personnel will collect samples of the extracted honey, and these samples will be analyzed at the provincial laboratory. Any honey containing residues of Cyanogas will be confiscated!

Coming down the aisle accompanied by her mother and father Rita looked lovely in a long gown of white nylon organza, featuring its own train. A-line skirt and empire waistline. Her dress was sleeveless with a wide ruffle at the shoulders and an insert of net with its own lace choker. Her long hair was covered by a floor length veil and held in place by a Spanish lace cap. The bride carried a bouquet of red roses and white baby's breath.

The bride's attendants were, Maid of Honour - sister of the bride Mrs. Marie Keane. Bridesmaids were Miss Dolores Letourneau and the groom's twin sisters - Yvette and Yvonne Pelletier. The girls were radiant in their pink dresses. The dresses featured softly caped sleeves and their own rose at the neckline. The girls wore white picture hats trimmed with a pink rose.

Attending the groom were Mr. Tom Keane, Leo Pelletier, Claude Proulx and Robert Laframboise. Young Donald Laframboise, a nephew of the bride was ringbearer. The men all wore navy blue tuxedos. Ushering in the guests were Denis Laframboise and Adrien Pelletier Jr.

Following the ceremony a reception for some 250 guests was held at the Legal Community Hall. The banquet table was centered with a beautiful three-tiered cake decorated in pink and red. Seated at the head table with the bride and groom, their attendants and their parents, were the groom's both set of grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Montpetit and Mr. and Mrs. Adrien Pelletier. Master of ceremonies for the occasion was Mr. Robert Pelletier. A toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. Claude Regimbald of St. Albert, a cousin of the bride.

ceived her guests in a lovely dress of beige knit featuring its own jacket and white gardenia on corsage.

Proulx wedding held in Legal

In a pretty afternoon ceremony held in St. Emile's Church on July 31, 1976, Miss Catherine Montpetit exchanged wedding vows with Arthur Proulx. Cathy is the daughter of Dan and Bertha Montpetit, and Arthur the son of Rock and Jeannette Proulx, all of Legal.

The triple ring marriage ceremony was performed by Reverend R. Bissonnette, assisted by altar boys Alain and Robert Proulx. Scripture readings were given by Kevin Montpetit, brother of the bride. Soloists for the occasion were Dolores Brisson and Pat Montpetit, accompanied by organist Elaine Blodeau. Ushers were Ronald Proulx and Kevin Montpetit.

Entering the church with her parents, the bride was lovely in her gown of organza over peau de soie, featuring a front flounce and forming a train in back, with fitted sleeves, all trimmed with chantilly lace. The dainty bodice was also of chantilly lace, as well as her waist length veil, held in place by a lace headpiece, and decorated with tiny pearls. The bride carried a cascade bouquet of large yellow roses, and streamers.

The bride's attendants were Pat Montpetit close friend, Wendy Dubois, sister of the bride, and Yvonne Houle, sister of the groom. They were matching dresses of printed yellow polyester crepe, featuring a sweetheart neckline and flounce at bottom of the skirt. They all wore heart shaped lockets and carried nosegays of yellow and white mums, with tiny yellow roses accenting their hair.

Walking to the altar with her parents, the groom looked handsome in a white tuxedo and black pants, with a white carnation and yellow rose from centre type boutonniere. The groom's attendants, Dan Mahe, close friend, Paul Dubois and Denis Houle, brother-in-law of the bride and groom, were all attired in pale yellow jackets, black lapels, bow ties and pants.

For the occasion, the bride's mother chose a long aqua gown, and wore pink carnations on corsage. The groom's mother chose a long aqua gown accented with a corsage of white carnations.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Community Hall with uncle of the bride, Mr. Fern Forest as master of ceremonies. The toast to the bride was given by Mr. Lucien Montpetit. A round three tiered wedding cake trimmed with yellow roses centered the head table, flanked by white candles and centrepieces of yellow and white mums. After the reception, everyone enjoyed dancing to the music of Danny Bolser's band. Out of town guests were from High Prairie, Calgary, Le-

The happy couple are now residing in their home near

Legal, after a honeymoon touring the Vancouver area.

Transfer of subsidies sought

In a brief to the Hall Commission on Grain Handling and Transportation, Uniform said that in the event of any branch line abandonment federal subsidies now paid to railways for operations on uneconomic branch lines should be transferred to farmers and rural municipalities who stand to lose most from rail line abandonment or removal of elevators.

Farmers who lose the advantage of a nearby elevator will be faced with greater costs of longer hauling distances as well as purchase of larger capacity trucks and possibly the development or expansion of alternate crops if increased costs force them out of grain farming.

Rural municipalities will be required to provide funds for the construction and maintenance of roads capable of handling the increased traffic that will be required to move grain efficiently to more distant delivery points.

Uniform President Dobson Lea, in presenting the brief in Saskatoon this week, said that the federal government and elevator and railway companies will gain while the shipper and the municipality lose with each mile of track that is abandoned or as the number of elevators are reduced on rail lines that are protected for only a few more years.

To compensate grain growers for extra costs they will encounter due to abandonment and elevator closures, Uniform suggested that initial prices for grain be established on the producer's farm rather than at the elevator. At the present time the value of grain at an elevator - the price received by the grower - is determined by distance from terminal markets.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 24 - Chelsea Village opens at the Cave in Bon Accord Arena at 8 p.m. The discotheque will cater to young people in the village and surrounding area.

Wages vs prices. What's happened in 1976.

The anti-inflation program is nearly one year old.

The program was announced last October 14 and the Anti-Inflation Act was passed by Parliament in December. The goal was to create a fair and stable economic climate for all of us. Guidelines were established for the control of prices, profits, incomes, dividends and professional fees. The federal government established a policy of spending restraint. The provinces are supporting the program and are applying guidelines in areas of provincial concern such as rents.

The target of the first year of the anti-inflation program was to bring inflation down from a rate of 10.8% to 8% or less. This goal is going to be reached. Still, many Canadians are concerned about rising prices and may feel in fact that prices are rising faster than their family incomes. For most of us, this is not the case. The facts prove that since the start of the program most of us are better off than we were before because salaries, on average, are keeping ahead of prices.

Prices

Last year, sudden and frightening price increases were happening all too often. By October, 1975, Canadians had experienced 20 months of inflation of 10% or more. No one could be sure how far the dollar earned one day would stretch the next. The anti-inflation program was brought in to control the rise in prices, giving Canadians a better chance to plan and live within their family budgets. Price increases have slowed down. By August, the annual rate of increase in the Consumer Price Index had dropped to 6.2%. Although some price increases have to be expected this month, and next, the 8% target will surely be met.

Wages

The anti-inflation program has also helped to restrain increases in wages, salaries and other incomes. The Guidelines on compensation allow for a basic increase of 8%, plus 2% as a share of national productivity growth. Another 2% can be added or subtracted depending on whether a group had kept up with or fallen behind cost of living increases before the program began. More than half of the agreements and settlements reported to the Anti-Inflation Board have been within these arithmetic guidelines. A gradual downward trend in wage increases has started and it should continue as more Canadians realize that because of declining inflation, settling for less won't hurt them.

The real gains

Since the start of the anti-inflation program, the average Canadian has actually improved his or her buying power. This is because lower wage increases along with lower price increases have resulted in a gain in real incomes. The real gain is worked out by taking the actual increase in earnings and subtracting from it the effects of higher consumer prices. Real incomes are probably the best measure of how we're doing, of how we can manage to pay our bills at home. By this spring, real incomes were up 3.6% over last year.

Controls on both prices and incomes are part of the reason why the inflation rate is dropping. The co-operation and hard work of most Canadians is the rest of the story. We will soon be moving into the second year of the program, with a goal of lowering the inflation rate to 6% or less. Working together we can reach this target too.

LIGHT HORSE WINS HIGH POINT

The Club had a very successful year with Gibbons winning the "High Point" trophy again, at the Regionals at Magnolia. The reorganizational meeting will be held on October 6, 1976 in the Sunday School at 7:30 p.m. All interested in joining are urged to attend. The club's annual banquet, which will be held in the Gibbons Community Hall on October 17 at 6:30 p.m.

The Agricultural Society would like to thank Mrs. Emily Oliver, Mrs. Gladys McWhirter, Mrs. Judy Christie and Mrs. Clara Williams for their donations for the lunch counter in the Gibbons Arena during the Farmer's Market and to everyone for their kindness.

Mr. Dave Mospany is now an official member of the Agricultural Society and will carry on the office of treasurer which Bill Jensen held last year.

Don't forget the Ag. Society's white elephant sale to be held as soon as enough items are collected. If you have any clothes or other articles which are of no use to you please drop them off at the arena.

Mrs. Maureen Barret and little Aaron have been visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. Bert Lee for the past two weeks. Maureen is from Rossland, B.C.
